Recall of Castleberry's Food Products

Castleberry's Food Products has issued a recall related to at least four cases of botulism nationwide and the subsequent positive tests for Clostridium botulinum in suspect food products. No associated illnesses have been reported in Washington State to date.

Recalled products include both human food and pet food. The recall includes all the listed products, regardless of "best by" dates or product date codes.

The Kittitas County Public Health Department is currently in the process of contacting all food vendors in the county who may carry any of the recalled products, as well as alerting medical providers and veterinarians.

Anyone with recalled Castleberry's Food Products should dispose of the food immediately, following safe disposal guidelines. Wear gloves and eye protection. If the food is in a disposable container, leave it in the container. Put the container in a sealable bag, wrap two plastic bags around it, and tape it tightly. If the food is in a non-disposable container, put the food from the container into a sealable bag, wrap two plastic bags around it, and tape it tightly. Dispose the taped bags in trash out of reach of humans and pets. Fill the non-disposable container with a dilute bleach solution (use $\frac{1}{4}$ cup bleach for every 2 cups of water), and allow to soak for at least 15 minutes. Discard the liquid and wash thoroughly with soap and running water. Slowly remove gloves and dispose after use. Wash hands with soap and running water for at least 2 minutes. For more information on disposal, please visit: http://www.cdc.gov/botulism/botulism_faq.htm

The classic symptoms of botulism include double vision, blurred vision, drooping eyelids, slurred speech, difficulty swallowing, dry mouth, and muscle weakness. Infants with botulism appear lethargic, feed poorly, are constipated, and have a weak cry and poor muscle tone. These are all symptoms of the muscle paralysis caused by the bacterial toxin. If untreated, these symptoms may progress to cause paralysis of the arms, legs, trunk and respiratory muscles. In foodborne botulism, symptoms generally begin 18 to 36 hours after eating a contaminated food, but they can occur as early as 6 hours or as late as 10 days. (www.cdc.gov)
