Hello Kelly

The Snoqualmie Tribe [Tribe] is a federally recognized sovereign Indian Tribe. We were signatory to the Treaty of Point Elliott of 1855; we reserved certain rights and privileges and ceded certain lands to the United States. As a signatory to the Treaty of Point Elliot, the Tribe specifically reserved among other things, the right to fish at usual and accustomed areas and the “privilege of hunting and gathering roots and berries on open and unclaimed lands” off-reservation throughout the modern-day state of Washington.

The Snoqualmie Indian Tribes Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation do not have concerns with the reasonable use permit but have apprehension regarding any ground disturbing activities associated with the permit. The Snoqualmie Indian Tribes Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation recommend monitoring during ground disturbing activities associated with the above-mentioned project.

Thank you.
