This occupancy is currently in my inventory for annual fire and life safety inspections, they are operating as a B occupancy type.

This proposed new use would add a new use A – Assembly. Building dept. should review to determine if there will be any conditions to begin operating as an A occupancy with alcohol being served.

I will also need additional information to include occupant load, to determine if a fire alarm or sprinklers will be required for this assembly use.

I am unsure if they are already approved as an A occupancy/mixed occupancy.

They will also need a Knox keybox installed on the structure.
