AU-13-00003 Lund

Attached is the your current file to date; the transmittal of comments letter with comments are at the front of the file. This is something of a formality for ADUs as there is generally very limited comments attached to these applications. The transmittal of comments element provides applicants with an opportunity to respond to, and address issues that may arise before a decision is rendered (usually applicable in larger land use actions such as subdivisions). Inasmuch as there were no issues arising on this application I will be getting right to the decision process this morning. The signed original hard copy (letter and three comment letters) has been sent via U.S. Mail. The Public Works and KVFR comments should be examined for requirements.
