OK. Thank you for the clarification. This should be OK.

Yes... they could have done a much better job with this application, it's a bit confusing. The survey is not a reflection of the current parcel configuration; it is to be used at some later date to indicate the distribution of property in the estate. See the attached map for a better picture. All they are doing at this point is to transfer a small sliver from parcel A to parcel B to match the existing fence line.

Jeff,

Is the existing configuration available or did I miss it?
