Sorry, guess I missed the question part... I don't normally assess the proposal til' comments are all in... Personally I don't get too upset about parcels crossing roads etc. I will condition no intervening ownership. Dan didn't like 'em, I have not addressed the issue with Doc yet.

I asked a question of you last week.... Regarding Knowles BLA

Do you (planning, PW's) have any issues with this....

I did a site eval up there last month, and it is determined that a primary and reserve area will fit within the property across the road. Depending on what the septic system that is shared between the two buildings shakes out, they would need an easement if they keep the system as is. Other than that it is community water, I see no other EH issues.
