Jeff,

I can't see where the well is but as long as the new property line isn't within 50 feet of the well it should be OK.

Thanks,

Holly

Yes the originals are faint as well... I have rescanned as best I could and added some notes (attached). Essentially it is a structure encroachment issue and they are moving noted line what looks to be about 20 ft north.

Jeff,

I am having trouble commenting on this one because the current and proposed diagrams are not easy to see. I can't see any of the lines.
