IT has been brought to my attention that you are taking prime soil to place a solar farm. It is my understanding that there is ample sage lands where this facility may be located. My husband and I are wheat farmers in the Palouse. We know the importance of conserving soil. When it's gone it's gone. Our son is now using no-till methods of planting the wheat to keep the remaining soil from eroding. Without good soil to grow our food we are going to be in trouble in the near future.

Sincerely,

Helen A. Appel, President Washington Wool Growers Auxiliary
