Ms. Clear,

Thank you for providing comment on the SEPA for the Look site materials storage.

As stated in Ecology's comment letter, the National Wetland Inventory (NWI) maps are not always accurate. The attached figures depict both the location of work with the NWI layer shown and the location in its current condition cleared of vegetation. Although the NWI map shows much of the work area as a wetland, the aerial photo suggests that the current condition of the sites has wetlands situated to the north of the work area.

If these figures address Ecology's concerns, please reply and inform KCDS.

Sincerely,

Dusty Pilkington
