Hi Scott,

I sent the applicant an email last week and left them a phone message yesterday. I have still not heard back from them, so I am going to mail a physical letter requesting the information and putting the application on hold until they provide the requested information. Once they do provide the additional information, you will be given a chance to review the materials and provide your comments.

Thanks and sorry about that!

Rachael,

Reaching out since the comment deadline is on the 27th (3 days). Have they sent any of the requested materials? If not, WDFW does not see that the materials uploaded (no site plan, no drainage report) are sufficient to be able to comment on habitat and natural resource issues. Thus WDFW requests that either the commenting deadline be extended to a reasonable period past when they send the supporting documents or that the application be withdrawn/put on hold and reopened when that supporting documents are uploaded.

Thank you,

Scott

Rachael,

Have you received any word on these documents? Without them, I don't think WDFW will have enough information to decide whether or not we have comments on this project.

Thanks,

Rachael,

In the file, I don't see any site plans showing the road location. The SEPA checklist also makes mention of a drainage report. Could you send or upload the site plans and drainage report so we can review for impacts?
