Good morning,

Attached is the updated Brown and Jackson plans. As previously discussed, they have moved the two storage pond to the south of the previously identified locations. The ponds were moved in order to ensure the archaeological area was not impacted. This is a plan they were working with Ecology on.

Will this adjustment require the application to the renoticed?

Good morning Kelly-

I received your message and realized there may be some uncertainty regarding the new location for the ponds. I have attached our updated plans, which have been approved by Ecology to help determine what we would need to do to move forward. I think it's worth noting that the volume of the ponds did not change.

The ponds are still located in the same area of the property, the reason for relocation was to make sure that the archaeological area is not affected. Hopefully this will help us get a more definitive answer of what you will need from us to continue with the permitting process.

I have CC'd our Engineer on the project, so if there are any other questions or concerns, she can address them.

Thanks
Rikki
