Thank you Kelly. We will let you know what we find out from the survey. Apparently it took quite a few months to get the surveyors there and that got the cart before the horse on this.

Good morning Jim,

We can pause the processing of the variance. The notice has been sent to the paper, so if they are unable to pull it at this point we will let the notice run and then re-notice once the amended information has been received.

Thank you,

Kelly Bacon

Hi Kelly, I got a request from Jake O'Brien to see if we can pause this process momentarily. Apparently Encompass Engineering finally made it there to do the surveying and there is some significant differences between what we expected to be the front property line and what now appears to be the case.

Is it possible to put things on hold for a moment while the owner can verify with Encompass what the lot line situation is?

THANKS,

JIM MILLER
