SPECIAL MEETING

FAIR BOARD

COMMISSIONERS

Stephanie Hartung, Deputy Prosecutor provided information on some concerns that have been raised by various County Departments over the years relating to Fair Board operations including if the Board members were employees; should they have email; should they track their time for L&I purposes; and if they are subject to the same policies and disciplinary proceedings as traditional County employees. She indicated that according to RCW 36.37.040 the Counties are required to host a Fair. After review there were two options the County could go including delegating the Fair operations to a non-profit group like Friends of the Fair, or have them be County employees. She reviewed obligations relating the Public Records Act and the Open Public Meetings Act; the new law requiring an hour of sick leave per 40 hours worked for PRA & OPMA obligations; the new sick leave law; tracking hours in Novatime and compensation. There was discussion on various ways to track email of Board members and the Commissioner preferred setting up G Suite emails instead of having County emails.

Clay Myers said the Fair Board doesn't have an interest at this time in putting on the Fair as a Non-Profit. Commissioner Jewell said there were various models of how counties host their Fair as required by RCW, but they don't operate it, rather it's another entity that does. The Board came to a consensus to appoint a committee to work on possible solutions which would include a representative from the Prosecutors office, Human Resource Department, IT (when needed), Auditors office (when needed) Event Center Director, a Commissioner and 4 or less members of the Fair Board. Once the Fair Board has determined who will be representatives on
