Bradley – Thank you for sending the comments received on our application and most look typical from the various departments but I do wish to comment on the letter requesting a cultural resource study. The Davenport's have owned this property for decades. Walter has installed the home, drain field, driveways, etc. and no artifacts or other cultural items have been found or uncovered on this property. I suggest the county place a notice on this application requiring the lot owners to contact authorities in case of any inadvertent discoveries and also place a notice on the plat that further review may be required for future development. These notices would hopefully address any archeological and cultural concerns.

Please contact us back with any questions or if you need any additional information to continue the review process.

Thanks,
Chris Cruse P.L.S.

Chris,

Here is the email I sent to Walter. I does appear that I didn't include you on this email. I'll make a point to include you on future communications.

Best,
Bradley
