Hi Ellie,

This review is in response to the notice of application for the SE-26-00003 Kittitas PUD 1 HQ project.

Please be advised that the proposed undertaking falls within areas of usual and accustomed use of the škwáxčənəxw (people living on the bank) or Moses-Columbia, a member tribe of the Confederated Tribes of the Colville Reservation (CTCR).

We have reviewed the SEPA checklist and do not concur with the level of effort contained therein to identify resources of historic, cultural, or religious significance. Based on State and Tribal sensitivity maps, this area has never been subject to a cultural resources survey. While there are few known archaeological resources around the current proposed location, this is more likely due to a lack of previous survey; where survey has been previously conducted nearby, several sites were identified.

Given the extent of ground disturbance proposed for this project, the CTCR requests that a full cultural resources survey with a subsurface testing schema appropriate for the scale of the project be conducted, and that the CTCR History/Archaeology Department be given a chance to review the report before the project takes place. The proponent should also develop and have on site an Inadvertent Discovery Plan for all ground disturbing work.

Thank you for reviewing this project with the CTCR. Our comments are based on information available and we do reserve the right to revise them should new information warrant such a revision. If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to me using this email or the numbers listed below.

Thank you,
