Please do note that the common denominator in all these people is Lori Chase. Lori and I go way back. I traveled with her and her husband was my aunts cousin. She has been mad since we bought the property because apparently it was sold from under them. It was suppose to be for her son Patrick Chase. Mike Johnson bought Lori's old house on the corner. Mary and Sandy are both Lori's long time friends. We have had issues of them encroaching and had to have them move their stuff back. She currently has a propane tank on the property line and says we need to build around her. As soon as the pro6lines were up they moved their trailer right in front. Which I don't care it's the city's. More just proving the games.

I know my 5 ft by 11 (space for variance)for the master bedroom does not affect any of these people's view or land value. At this point they all got together and had this planned. We are not here to cause any trouble. These people have been messing with us since we moved here.

I appreciate your time and consideration for this matter.

Respectfully,

I'm feeling like this is malice with the neighbors. Everyone is already built around us. These neighbors aren't even affected by our build. Mike is around the corner and doesn't even face our house. Lori and her son Patrick's house takes our view and we just look at someone else's backyard. Gordon Villa is behind the Ronald school and also doesn't even look at our house.

We have had issues with Mike, Lori and her son Patrick. All claiming it was their property and we had to show it was sold to us. I'm feeling like this is their way to feel higher up.

This makes me so sad! The variance is towards the backyard and none of these people are affected by it.

I am trying to see options.

Best regards,
Keren

Good morning,

Please see the attached correspondence regarding your Zoning Variance application (VA-26-00003 Swanson). A physical copy of the correspondence has been placed in the mail. Please let me know if you have any questions.

I will need detailed responses to the comments that clearly justify how this project meets the criteria for variance approval. This is why asked for the answers on the application to be written thoroughly and with sufficient detail. I do not want to speculate why the variance should be allowed, I need the applicant to do so, especially when we receive comments questioning the validity of this project.

I want to support approval of this variance, but to do so, I need more detailed information from you in order to move forward.

Best,

Ellie Myers
