Hello Ellie,

This compliance review is in response to AU-25-00001. This involves the retro-active permitting for an Accessory Dwelling Unit, but also as stated in the project narrative that there is an active plan for new residential construction. We request that any ground disturbing activities have an IDP in place prior to implementation. The proposed project area is in a Low Probability for an Inadvertent Discovery according to the DAHP predictive model.

We request an IDP be in place prior to project implementation and ground disturbing activities for the new construction.

Sincerely,
