Good Morning,

Attached please find correspondence regarding Boundary Line Adjustment application BL-25-00009 Wales. Please contact me directly with any questions.

As the attachment explains, I'll be sending notice of final approval to the Assessor's Office today. They will review the project information, update the county's GIS tax parcel layer and update any additional information stored in county records, like the updated acreage numbers. They typically need 2-3 weeks to make this adjustment and then to publish the updated GIS layer.

However, as of today, the project is being given final approval and the survey is recorded with the County Auditor. Therefore, on my end, the project is complete. While I am not a real estate lawyer, I believe you are good to move forward with the real estate transaction. If you wanted to wait for the Assessor to update the public facing tax parcel layer, you could do so. They should have it updated in 2-3 weeks.

Best,
Bradley
