The PDF is too large to email. Do you have a dropbox or similar folder I can access, if you are not able to create a dropbox account?

Both the individually sent HPMP link and the attachment to the email appear to be linked to GCPud. So when I click on either one, it takes me to a GCPUD log on screen.

As long as you received a copy, I would disregard the link email. I have never sent an email that way.

The file sent twice, but when I try to open the document it asks me to log into the GCPUD system.
